

Kellogg Attacks 'Quibbling' Over Anti-War Treaty

Secretary of State Tells France He Can See No Difference in Bi-Lateral and Multi-Lateral.

AGAIN MAKES PLEA
FOR OUTLAW PACT

Answers Paris Contention
That League Covenant
Prohibits General
Agreement of Nations.

Washington, February 28.—(AP)—Secretary Kellogg has informed the French government that he cannot construe France's obligations under her League of Nations membership as a bar to her joining this and other world powers in a treaty to outlaw war.

France, in a note on January 21, had set up her league obligations to support her suggestion that a Franco-American treaty would be more feasible than a multilateral treaty as proposed by Secretary Kellogg. The Paris government was advised, however, in the state department's note of yesterday and made public today, that Secretary Kellogg believes the difference between a bi-lateral and a multilateral treaty to outlaw war would be "one of degree and not of substance."

Treaty Bars Anti-War Pact.
After setting forth his understanding that the only "substantial obstacle" to France's acceptance of a many-nation treaty against war as an instrument of national policy was France's league and Lovano pact obligations, Secretary Kellogg continued:

"Without, of course, undertaking formally to construe the present treaty obligations of France, I desire to point out that if those obligations can be interpreted so as to permit France to conclude a treaty with the United States such as that offered to me last June by Mr. Briand and offered again in your note of January 21, it is not unreasonable to suppose that they can be interpreted with equal justice so as to permit France to join with the United States in offering to conclude an equivalent multilateral treaty with the other principal powers of the world."

"The difference between the bi-lateral and the multi-lateral form of treaty having for its object the renunciation of war as an instrument of national policy seems to me to be one of degree and not of substance. A government free to conclude such a bi-lateral treaty should be no less able to become a party to an identical multilateral treaty since it is hardly to be presumed that members of the League of Nations are in a position to do separately something that they cannot do together."

Says Discussion Is Useless.
If members of the League of Nations cannot without violating the terms of the league covenant, agree among themselves and with the American government to renounce "then it seems idle to discuss either bi-lateral or multilateral treaties," to that effect.

Declaring he was reluctant to believe the provisions of the league covenant stood in the way, Kellogg remarked the recent adoption by the Pan-American conference at Havana of a resolution expressing qualified condemnation of war as an instrument of national policy and said it was significant to note that of the 21 states represented, 17 are members of the League of Nations.

"I trust, therefore," he continued, "that neither France nor any other member of the League of Nations will finally decide that an unequivocal and unqualified renunciation of war as an instrument of national policy either violates the specific obligations imposed by the covenant or conflicts with the fundamental idea and purposes of the League of Nations."

UNION OFFICIALS OF MINE WORKERS DIE IN AMBUSH

Two Slayings Tuesday
Make Total of Four Murders
in Pittston District in Six Weeks.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., February 28.—(AP)—Alex Campbell, of Pittston, leader of the United Mine Workers' faction at No. 6 colliery, Pennsylvania Coal company, and Peter Reilly, treasurer of the local, were slain today at Pittston.

The men were shot from ambush by unknown persons in Pittston. Their deaths make four murders committed in the last six weeks with nine workers or their officials as victims.

Former Board Member.
Campbell, check weighman at No. 6 colliery and a former international board member of the United Mine Workers, has been vigorously opposing the contract mining system in vogue in the Pittston district and at the same time has been at odds with the district organization of the union.

He was an official at the colliery three of whose union representatives including the president, Samuel Bonita, visited district headquarters in the miners' bank building February 16 and went into a conference with Frank Agaty, a district organizer, during which Agaty was shot and killed.

Bonita and two companions, Steve Mendola and Adam Molski, are in the Luzerne county jail, charged with the murder of Agaty.

Visited County Jail.
Campbell, whose faction in the union has undertaken to raise funds to defend the trio, visited them in the county jail this afternoon. He was on his way in an automobile to his home in Pittston, after the jail conference, when he was slain.

Reilly last Saturday at the hearing given Bonita, Mendola and Molski testified that he was the driver of the car which conveyed the three to the mine house where they were slain. He said that he had later picked up Molski on the street as he walked through the central city following the shooting.

Discovery of an abandoned automobile near a railroad crossing in Moosic, several miles above Pittston, was reported. Several persons said they saw the young men alight from the car and jump on a passing freight train, bound for Scranton.

Inside the car were found two guns, and a revolver with six empty shells. The car bore no license plates.

MOODY TO SEEK REELECTION NEXT FALL AS GOVERNOR

Austin, Texas, February 28.—(AP)—Dan Moody, youthful governor of Texas, will seek reelection this year, he said in a letter to Tom Faulk, member of the state democratic executive committee.

The letter was made public at a meeting of the committee today after there was talk of inducing the governor as a candidate for national office. Mr. Moody was not a candidate for any national office, the letter said. The term of governor in Texas is two years.

TO START PACIFIC
HOP TOMORROW

Mitchell Field, N. Y., February 28.—(AP)—Dieudonne Costes and Joseph LeBrix, French four-continent fliers, announced today that they will start Thursday on a one-stop flight to the west coast.

They will take their plane by boat to Tokyo, fly it back to France, and then make plans for an attempt to fly from Paris to New York. Costes and LeBrix gave their plane, the Nungesser-Coli, a test flight on an hour today to try out the new Hispano Suiza motor installed here.

PASTOR SCORED FOR BETRAYAL OF CONFESSION

Atlanta Presbyterian
Ministers' Association Condemns Action of
Rev. Thomas F. Pardue.

MINISTERS DECLARE
CONFESSION SACRED

Preachers Hold Confession Should Try To Persuade Penitent To Make Amends for Crime.

Condemning the recent action of the Rev. Thomas F. Pardue, of Westworth, N. C., in betraying the sacred confidence of the alleged confession of Alma Petty Gatlin that she murdered her father, the Atlanta Presbyterian Ministers' association at its weekly meeting Monday voted resolutions to the effect that a minister "is not a deputy sheriff."

While the resolutions condemned the action of the Rev. Mr. Pardue, they pointed out that it was the duty of the minister to do all that he could to influence the person making such a confession to take the proper steps for amends for a crime.

On the other hand, the resolution stated, if a confession implied a purpose and plan to do further wrong, and discovered an utter unwillingness to do otherwise, the entire situation would be changed, and the obligation to protect such information might be changed into an obligation to renounce it, and to take whatever steps would be best to prevent further wrong.

"We believe we are speaking for ministers generally when we say that it is our duty to accept the confessions and confidences of people who may seek our counsel, sympathy and spiritual aid; and we say further that such confidences are absolutely honored and protected. They are sacred and no one could induce a true minister to betray any confession or other revelation of a personal character to him."

The resolutions pointed out that a minister acting as a confessor is serving as an aid to the conscience of the person who confesses wrong doing to him, and he must strive for the spiritual welfare of such a person, which obviously involves reparation and justice to individuals and to society. But he is not a deputy sheriff.

The association made it clear in the resolutions that they were not concerned with details of the case nor with the subsequent revelation of the alleged confession by Mrs. Gatlin, but purely with the action of the Rev. Pardue in violating a sacred confidence.

Navy Blimp
Speeds Over
Sea to Cuba

Dirigible Is Expected To Arrive at Guanacaybo Bay
Late Today.

Colon, C. Z., February 28.—(United News).—The dirigible "Langley" was speeding tonight over the Caribbean sea toward Cuba.

Leaving France Friday at 10:30 a. m., the silver craft headed over the sea at 12:16 p. m. Her destination was Guanacaybo Bay, Cuba, where she was expected to land.

The dirigible was expected to be moored to the Patocha tonight and to take off again in the morning for her hangar at Lakehurst.

Thousands had seen the dirigible here today in the flight of the Los Angeles as in the visit of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

The "Langley" had seen the dirigible here today in the flight of the Los Angeles as in the visit of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

Dirigible Expected
In Cuba Today.

Washington, February 28.—(United News).—The navy department informed the United States tonight that the dirigible "Langley" was expected to complete its non-stop flight from Colon, Panama Canal Zone, to Guanacaybo Bay, Cuba, by 4:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

The 20-hour estimate for the 750-mile flight was based, the navy said, on a report from Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, of the Los Angeles, that he could proceed no faster than about 25 miles an hour, on account of strong adverse trade winds of 25 or 30 miles an hour velocity.

The giant dirigible took off from France Friday, at 10:30 a. m. today and pointed north by northeast for the first leg of its return flight to the hangar at Lakehurst, N. J.

Girl Dangling on Plane In Clouds Escapes Death

PILOT'S SKILL SAVES PARACHUTE JUMPER

St. Petersburg, Fla., February 28.—(AP)—An 18-year-old girl's ambition to set a new world record for a parachute jump was prevented from ending in tragedy here today by her quick-thinking pilot who brought his ship from an altitude of 15,000 feet to a landing on one wheel and a wing tip while the plucky lass dangled from the under carriage.

Jeanne Duran, the girl, went aloft with Dr. R. L. Ellis, of Minneapolis, Minn., and when at 15,000 feet she went over the side, but her parachute caught on the plane and left her dangling in mid-air, unable to climb back to the wing of the plane or to release herself. Ellis, realizing what had happened, headed for the field, while the crowd below stood helpless and horror-stricken, watching the slender form of the girl dangle from the wing.

Coming down to the field, Ellis tipped his machine over to one side, but the girl was dragged 200 feet before the plane came to a stop.

Miss Durand was unconscious when taken into an ambulance, but regained consciousness while en route to the hospital. Careful examination there showed her hurts to be a sprained wrist and a bruise. Ellis, in bringing his plane to earth, swung in wide circles, gradually working down to where he could glide to the field.

Those who witnessed the landing said that but for Ellis' tipping his plans to the side opposite from that where Miss Durand dangled, she undoubtedly would have been injured if not killed.

"As I climbed over the wing I noticed the knot holding the chute looked funny," Miss Durand recalled. "I usually tie the knot myself, but in the press of things today it was tied by another."

"When Dr. Ellis gave the signal to drop, I pulled on the cord, nervously myself for the drop, but there was no drop. I pulled again and the knot only slipped tighter."

"I tried climbing up over the parachute but my arms were too short to reach the top of the bag. I pulled till my nails were torn and bleeding, but the knot would not release."

"It's all over with you, Jeanne," I thought, "you'll never come out of this alive," and I pictured the crowds below as my body was torn on the rough field beneath the wheels of the plane.

"But I did not give up hope, and was not nervous. I know Dr. Ellis would bring me down safely if possible. He started circling the field, about 10 times—circling lower and lower. As he landed, he tilted the plane, throwing me up against the wing, thus saving me."

"I'm going to try for that altitude record Sunday if it's the last thing I ever do."

Although hope for the safety of the three men has practically been abandoned, it is believed possible that the new clue supplied may lead to definite conclusions concerning their fate. According to Williams, the plane passed over Cape Charles between 2:30 and 3 o'clock, bound north. Several people heard the machine and declared the engine was missing. Three minutes later the plane reappeared, heading southwestward, or almost in the opposite direction with the engine still missing.

Tug crew Sights Plane.
At 3:15 a. m., the crew of a New York, Pennsylvania and Norfolk railway tug sighted the plane off Plantation flats about three miles south of Cape Charles, still flying in a south-westerly direction and with the engine still missing.

It soon disappeared and so far as could be learned was not heard again. The direction of the plane was toward the Hampton Roads base, indicating that the fliers were attempting to return to the air station.

Richardson said the water in the channel off Plantation flats is from 150 to 180 feet deep in some places and the theory is advanced that the heavy plane may have nose dived into the water or been wrecked in a forced landing and went down.

The men with Commander Ellyson were Lieutenant Commander Hugo Schmidt and Lieutenant Roger Henschel. The latter was at the controls when the plane took off.

Find Oil on Water.
Another clue duplicated today was the finding of a big oil spot on the surface of the water in Mohawk bay, across the bay from Cape Charles.

A navy tug was sent to the scene by Rear Admiral R. E. Conz, commander of the fifth naval district, who is personally supervising the search for the missing fliers. It was found, however, that the spot was floating with the tide and could have been carried to where it was found from some other place in the bay. The plane is supposed to have gone down.

To make sure that nothing that could be done would be overlooked the crew of the tug spent some time dragging the bottom in the vicinity of the spot in the hope the plane wreckage might be caught in the grappling irons.

Putting these reports together, the searchers are inclined to the belief that the plane "has crashed in the lower Chesapeake bay or in the mouth of Hampton Roads. The intensive search maintained today will be resumed tomorrow."

CONDITIONS OF FLIER'S DAUGHTER UNCHANGED.

Ellyson, was hurrying. The flier's plane, of which no trace has been found since he and two companions started from Hampton Roads early yesterday morning.

The child is seriously ill, but the critical turn has not been reached, it was said at the hospital tonight. Her mother, who watched by the bedside all yesterday expecting Commander Ellyson to arrive, was informed this morning that he was missing. She remained at the hospital during the morning, greatly disturbed by the double misfortune, but went to her home for a time this afternoon.

Planes from here and coast guard craft from Baltimore have joined in the search along the shores of Chesapeake bay for a trace of the navy plane, but no report of a find was received during the day.

BROOKS' BODY STILL MISSING.
Melbourne, Fla., February 28.—(United News).—Part of the propeller of Harry Brooks' Ford flivver plane was found on the beach 15 miles south of here today opposite the point where the wreckage of the plane was found Sunday.

Brooks' body has not been found, although organized searching parties have been combing the beaches for miles south of here for it.

Tampa, Fla., February 28.—(AP)—S. V. M. Bloor, vice president of the old Florida Brewing company, of Tampa, was found guilty today by a jury in the United States district court of paying a $50 bribe to W. C. Crumley, prohibition agent, October 26, 1924, to permit manufacture and sale of beer.

Norfolk, Va., February 28.—(AP)—First definite information that the amphibian plane which left the naval air station here yesterday at 2 a. m., with Commander T. G. Although hope for the safety of the three men has practically been abandoned, it is believed possible that the new clue supplied may lead to definite conclusions concerning their fate. According to Williams, the plane passed over Cape Charles between 2:30 and 3 o'clock, bound north. Several people heard the machine and declared the engine was missing. REED TRIUMPHS
AS PARTY CHIEF IN HOME STATE

Past Bitterness Forgotten
as Senator Is Assured 36 Votes in Fight for Presidential Nomination

St. Joseph, Mo., February 28.—(AP) Missouri democracy today voted Senator Jim Reed a triumphant return to leadership of the party in his home state on a platform assuring the veteran Missourian a block of 36 votes in his fight for the democratic presidential nomination at Houston.

In striking contrast to the wave of anti-Reed bitterness which swept the state eight years ago, the name of Reed today dominated the platform adopted by the state convention. It instructed the state's delegation to vote for the senator's nomination as a unit so long as his name remains before the national convention.

Harmony Marks Meeting.
Peace and harmony marked the meeting and there was none of the animosity that sprung up against the senator in 1920 when he even was refused a place on the state delegation to the San Francisco national convention.

"His services in the United States senate have excited the admiration of all the people and we acclaim him a peerless champion in the cause of the prohibition of alcohol."

3 YOUTHS INDICTED
IN $1,100 HOLDUP

Chalmers, Arendale and Landers Named as Robbers of Belting Company Pay Roll.

An indictment charging robbery by Otis Chalmers, alias Boss Shumate; H. L. Arendale, alias Rudolph Purdue, and C. A. Landers, youthful trio reputed to have confessed to the robbery Saturday of an agent of the Southern Belting company, was returned Tuesday afternoon by the Fulton county grand jury.

The three, according to the true bill, held up J. E. Sargent, assistant treasurer of the belting concern, and made off with a $1,100 payroll. They were arrested in Jacksonville Sunday and returned immediately to Atlanta for trial. In default of $5,000 bonds, fixed in each case by the solicitor's office Tuesday afternoon, the trio is being held in Fulton tower.

While two of the youths, Chalmers, 20, and Landers, 19, have readily admitted to a part in the holdup, the third, Arendale, 20, denies all connection with the crime.

Deny Other Robberies.
All three insist they had nothing to do with a number of recent robberies here, although police allege they held up the Biltmore pharmacy and a local filling station within the past few weeks.

Courthouse records reveal that a man named Otis Chalmers was indicted in 1925 in connection with robberies of L. A. Kidwell, 386 Lee street; H. L. Smith, Piedmont and Ellis streets; R. F. Revel, 109 South Ashby street; T. W. Fulton, Fair and Cherokee streets; L. S. James, 715 Highland avenue; R. S. Grandberry, 355 Spring street, and W. S. Dims, Highland avenue and Jackson street.

While three alleged accomplices, jointly indicted with Chalmers in connection with these robberies, were brought to trial and given 10-year sentences, the records show that Chalmers disappeared and has never faced the old charges.

He also is said to have been convicted of a misdemeanor for which he served a term on the Floyd county chancery.

Cincinnati, February 28.—(AP)—Burying one empty passenger train and missing two others by a narrow margin, a section of the Central Union depot train shed fell with a thundering crash today, injuring one man and causing about $15,000 damage.

Louisville and Nashville train No. 34 from Atlanta had unloaded its passengers and its crew awaited a signal to back into the yards when the steel and wooden trusses and metal roof over an area 300 by 200 feet dropped without warning, covering five tracks. C. H. Bruen, a switchman, was cut about the head and body.

Internal Dissension in 32
Temperance Organizations Stops Demand to Major Political Parties.

WRANGLING MARKS
PARLEY AT CAPITAL

Majority of Delegates Favor
Bartering with Party Leaders for Best Anti-Liquor Declaration.

Washington, February 28.—(United News).—Torn by internal dissension, representatives of 32 national temperance organizations voted a general statement of opinion at their convention today and decided to leave the task of writing a specific "dry" plank for political party platforms up to a special committee.

The final decision to permit a committee to draft the "dry" plank instead of the general convention was reached after several hours of wrangling. Certain of the temperance leaders demanded a "cut-and-dried" declaration for the political parties to adopt or reject. The majority, however, favored bartering with political convention leaders to obtain the best possible platform declaration on the prohibition issue.

Agreed to Accept Plank.
A group of prominent temperance workers including Clinton Howard, Gifford Pinchot, Dr. Clarence True Wilson, Dr. Oliver Stewart, D. Lee Colvin, Thomas D. Taylor and Canon William S. Chase, met informally and agreed to support a plank dealing only in general with prohibition and drafted by Colonel Raymond Robins, of Chicago.

In the general resolutions adopted by the conference were four general declarations pledging the support of the political conventions and present platforms a "positive, clear-cut declaration pledging the support of the party and nominees to vigorous and efficient enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and necessary supporting legislation."

Second, that political parties should nominate candidates positively and openly committed to effective prohibition enforcement.

"Plank" Committee Urged.
Third, that a committee attend the political conventions and present demands, and fourth, that dry workers actively support convention delegates who will support the aims of the conference.

The name of Governor Al Smith was prominently mentioned during the discussions. "If Al Smith," said the south will break away from its historical democratic tradition and refuse to support him," Dr. Eugene L. Crawford, of the Methodist Church, South, declared.

"If the Walsh power trust investigation had been kept in the senate and several other matters," said the south would not be a candidate for president," Rev. O. R. Miller, president of the National Civic League, of Albany, C. T., declared.

Miller intimated Smith was friendly to the public utilities corporations of New York state and that his closest advisors were power magnates.

DEBATE ON COTTON RENEWED AT PROBE

Washington, February 28.—(United News.)—The controversy over the cotton situation was renewed again today at hearings before the house judiciary committee on the bill by Representative Rankin, Mississippi, democrat, to amend the Sherman anti-trust act whereby the justice department would be authorized to seize cotton said to be concentrated in New York for alleged manipulation of the market.

Rankin and others have charged two firms, Anderson, Clayton and company, and George H. McFadden and brother, among others, with manipulating the cotton market. To the detriment of the cotton growers and others engaged in the cotton trade. It was pointed out to the committee that, if the bill becomes a law, whenever the justice department decides the Sherman anti-trust act has been violated it may proceed to seize this cotton now concentrated in New York, if found to be used for manipulation.

Will Hear More Testimony.

The committee asked those presenting evidence to reappear next Monday and continue presentation of the evidence and arguments in support of the measure.

Rankin, in opening the case before the committee, outlined what he said was a deplorable condition of the cotton market at present. He said he had never seen so much interest manifested in an investigation by the cotton industry.

As the result of concentration of large quantities of cotton in New York, a large portion of which is claimed by a great many to be of an inferior quality, Rankin said, certain powerful interests have been enabled to manipulate the cotton market so as to ruin cotton farmers and depress the cotton trade. He urged the committee to investigate the entire question to prevent a continuance or recurrence of "the present deplorable condition."

names, but it is reasonable to assume that pressure has been brought to bear. Otherwise, he would not have been disposed to comment on the situation at such length. Except to assure the senate judiciary committee that he had no objection to Judge Tilson's new appointment, he has taken no part in the matter. And his comment today came as a surprise.

Nomination of Judge Tilson's successor is expected momentarily, but there were few indications as to who would get the place. Eastern Democrats, federal district attorney at Macon, has been in the city for several days, but is not talking "for publication." The chief factor seemed to observers to be the president himself, and few observers can predict the actions of Mr. Coolidge with any optimism.

Los Angeles Slayer Given Life Sentence

Los Angeles, February 28.—(AP.)—Dr. Charles M. McMillan, convicted slayer of Mrs. Amelia Appleby, wealthy widow whose business interests he managed, was sentenced to life imprisonment at Folsom penitentiary today with the court's recommendation that he be ineligible to parole.

The 57-year-old physician took the sentence pronounced by Superior Judge Douglas Edmonds with the same calm demeanor that he had maintained throughout the trial.

"Of course, you understand that I am innocent," he told the court.

BOMB CONFESSION STIRS TRIAL FIGHT

Ottawa, Ill., February 28.—(AP.)—Hiram Reed's confession of dynamiting the Pleasant Valley school house was the center of a bitter fight today at the trial of the young farmer on a bombing charge.

A dozen state's witnesses testified to his admission of guilt in putting dynamite in the school stove in an attempt to avoid fatherhood and marriage with Iola Bradford, the 25-year-old teacher. The arguments and testimony were not heard by the jury, which was sequestered when her daughter was on the witness stand.

The defense made a motion after the state called its last witness to strike out all testimony regarding the confession. This was overruled. The first defense witness was the state's attorney himself, Russell O. Hanson. Through Hanson, Attorney George Springer showed that a phrase in the first confession written by Hanson and signed by Reed was garbled. He kept the state's attorney on the stand only a moment and then subpoenaed the county jailer.

FRANCE OPENS AIR MAIL SERVICE TO SO. AMERICA

Marseilles, France, February 28.—(AP.)—Air mail service from France to South America was inaugurated this morning with the departure of a large mail plane piloted by Naval Lieutenant Paris, who left the Berre Pond seaplane base here for St. Louis, Senegal.

Aboard the plane were sacks of mail, which arrived here by air from Paris and northern cities of the republic. From the base at St. Louis, the mail will be sent by fast boat to Natal, Brazil, and thence by plane again to Rio Janeiro and Buenos Aires.

A month of test flying will be necessary before actual operation of the mail route starts, it was announced recently by the Pitcairn company. The test flights will start within a few weeks.

The Pitcairn company also holds a contract for the air mail route from Atlanta to Miami, but service on this route will not start until fall, it was announced several days ago.

TINKHAM ASSAILS M'ADOO IN HOUSE

Washington, February 28.—(AP.)—Accusing the southern states of disfranchising the negro voters, Representative Tinkham, republican, Massachusetts, asserted today in the house that William G. McAdoo was in "sympathy with the nullification" of the fourteenth, fifteenth and nineteenth amendments of the constitution.

The Massachusetts representative said McAdoo in a recent speech on the enforcement of the prohibition amendment reached the "pinnacle of nauseating hypocrisy" in his views on upholding of the constitution.

"Any American who has traveled throughout the United States is familiar with the fact that the negro votes as freely as the white man in the north, east and west, but not in the south," Tinkham declared. He added that because of the nullification of the constitution the elections in the southern states "are unconstitutional and lawless and the presidential elections are tainted with fraud and illegitimacy."

If prohibition is enforced by federal statute, he argued, the other amendments should be upheld by similar means. He added that a disfranchisement of the negro impaired the political rights of voters in the other states.

Congress was at fault, too, he asserted, in the failure of the house rules committee to report out a resolution calling for an investigation of disfranchisement. He said that congress "had placed its seal of approval upon nullification and disfranchisement" by this failure.

REED OPENS CAMPAIGN ON PACIFIC COAST

Los Angeles, February 28.—(AP.)—Prohibition was brushed aside as a campaign issue by Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, as he entered California today to wage a fight, he said, against "corrupt Washington" and for a "united democratic party."

Taking a day off from speech making, the democratic presidential candidate confined his public utterances to newspapermen who surrounded him shortly after his arrival here today. They popped the inevitable question in newspapers at other stopping places have put to the senator, and asked him about prohibition.

"I don't think prohibition is an issue in this campaign," the silver-haired campaigner growled, pounding the arm of his chair with a fist holding an unlighted cigar.

"Prohibition is on the statutes and until the law is changed by the people, there it is, and, of course, it must be enforced. If you want to settle that issue now, disband the republican and democratic parties—they are both split on it—and fight it out with prohibition and anti-prohibition parties."

"The first issue, in my humble opinion, is to get rid of the crooks and scoundrels who are running the government—to set up an honest government which will try to act in the interest of the people."

Remarking that he had been in public life for 30 years, the senator said "The people ought to know how I stand on most things." He recalled his answer in Phoenix last night that if he had the power to name judges and law officers to enforce the Volstead act, he would name men who would enforce "all laws with justice and fairness."

Definite announcement was made today that the senator would speak in San Francisco on Friday night.

Tentative arrangements have been made also for stops at Reno, Nev., Ogden and Salt Lake City, Utah, and Frankfort, Ky., on the return eastward. Only one day will be devoted to both Ogden and Salt Lake City. At Frankfort he will address, by invitation, the Kentucky state legislature.

GRAND JURY HEARS STEPHENSON AGAIN

Kokomo, Ind., February 28.—(P)—D. C. Stephenson, former Klan leader and now a life prisoner, was brought here from Michigan City, Ind., state prison, and appeared before the Howard county grand jury this afternoon.

Stephenson, in custody of three guards, was kept in the county jail for several hours before called before the grand jury. The first and second floors of the city hall building, being used temporarily for county business, were packed to capacity with persons waiting to get a glimpse of the prisoner. It was here that Stephenson was installed as grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in 1923. Forty thousand people witnessed the ceremonies.

PARLIAMENT DEAN IN U. S. FOR 'CURE'

New York, February 28.—(P)—T. P. (Tay Pay) O'Connor, since 1885 a member of the British house of commons, came back to America after 11 years today in search of a climate which will help his rheumatism. Nearing his eightieth birthday, the "father of the house of commons" can walk now only with assistance. His ruddy face reveals his pain as he hobble, but in repose he has the appearance of a man of 60.

Discusses Irish Problem. The problems of Ireland belong to Ireland alone, he told interviewers whom he greeted at the liner Limerick. He declined to discuss Irish politics, nor would he talk about America's problems.

"The life of Ireland and of America," he said, "are entitled to their own views and opinions. But the 2,000,000 Irishmen in England also are entitled to their place in the sun. They share the ideals of Great Britain and leave to Ireland the job of settling her own political differences."

He indicated that he did not expect to make any public addresses while he is here.

ONE KILLED IN BLAZE AT NEW YORK

New York, February 28.—(P)—One man was killed, two firemen injured and a woman rescued from flames in a spectacular fire in the East Fifth avenue, across from Central park, today.

J. Beck, a painter, was burned to death when trapped on the stairs of the five-story home of Charles T. Matthews, church architect. The firemen were hurt when a skylight fell on them.

Thousands of Fifth avenue strollers witnessed the rescue of Elizabeth White, a maid employed in the Matthews home, who was trapped in a top-story room.

The fire was believed by firemen to have started from a torch paint-remover used by Beck.

At his headquarters at Keifeng, Honan, Marshal Feng has issued a stern decree to his subordinates forbidding any bachelor among them to marry or any married man to seek divorce, "before the final success of the revolution." The penalty for disobedience is death.

PAINTING WORTH FORTUNE AWARDED TO WASHINGTONIAN

Washington, February 28.—(United News.)—The "Bridgewater Madonna," a famous painting by Raphael, said to be worth more than $200,000, was awarded today to Thomas R. O'Sullivan, of this city, by a jury in circuit court after five minutes deliberation.

O'Sullivan's ownership of the picture was contested by Mrs. Gwendolyn Berryman, who claimed her husband, William O. Berryman, had given her the picture for a wedding present. O'Sullivan contended he had purchased the picture at a sum not named after the Berrymans separated. The famous painting has been in custody of the United States marshal here since February, 1926, pending outcome of the suit.

WIFE 'CONFESSES' IN TRAIN ROBBERY

Chicago, February 28.—(P)—Mrs. Charlie Cleaver, wife of "Limpy" Cleaver, held as a principal in the $133,000 Grand Trunk railroad mail robbery here, confessed to K. P. Aldrich, chief postal inspector late today.

Aldrich said she was prepared to go before the federal grand jury to repeat her story. The federal body will probably produce six indictments, officials said, implicating "Limpy" Cleaver and William Donovan, a joint leader of Cleaver's, and four others. The six men planned the robbery of the mail and baggage car three weeks before it took place, the details being released in her home, Mrs. Cleaver is reported to have confessed to inspectors.

Donovan's wife is held as a material witness. Virgil Litschger, a ward politician, is sought and an unnamed man is the other person mentioned in the confession of Mrs. Cleaver, officials said.

Mrs. Cleaver's confession was in detail, Inspector Aldrich said, even to the description of the manner of making the bomb which was used to tear away the door of the mail car as the train stopped at St. Maria station.

The $17,125 recovered by police at the Cleaver home has been identified as part of the $133,000 taken in the robbery.

AUTO MECHANIC HELD AS SLAYER OF OFFICER'S WIFE

Winnepeg, Manitoba, February 28.—(P)—A twelve-day mystery apparently was solved today with the finding of the body of Mrs. Lottie Adams, 30-year-old wife of a department store detective, and the arrest of Albert V. Westgate, 35-year-old automobile mechanic and chauffeur.

The body of the woman, who had been murdered, was found in a snow-filled ditch near her home at St. Vital, a suburb, after searching parties had looked for her for days in the woods in the vicinity.

COLLEGE STUDENT IS SERIOUSLY ILL AFTER ABDUCTION

Nacogdoches, Texas, February 28.—(P)—Gagged and bound hand and foot, Oscar "Red" Wilkerson, 17-year-old freshman student at Stephen F. Austin Teachers' college here, was found early today, 400 yards from the college campus, where he said three kidnapers left him last night after tossing him from their automobile.

Wilkerson is in a serious condition from exposure, doctors said, with the possibility that pneumonia might develop. He was unconscious when found and had a bruise on his forehead, believed to have resulted from being struck with a weapon.

Slayer Is Convicted. Anniston, Ala., February 28.—(P) Mrs. Willie Alexander was found guilty by a jury here today of the murder of her husband, Curlee Alexander, who was shot to death last December. She was sentenced to life imprisonment.

HICKMAN COUNSEL BARS CONFESSION

Los Angeles, February 28.—(P)—An unsuccessful attempt was made today to introduce the confession of William E. Hickman to the slaying of Marian Parker into the joint trial of Hickman and Welby Hunt for the murder of C. Ivy Toms, druggist, who was shot in a holdup a year ago Christmas eve.

With the jury excused temporarily, A. Gray Gilmer, counsel for Hunt, told the court he desired the confession read into the record as an exhibit to show "the quality of dominance and leadership exercised by Hickman." Objections by both the prosecution attorneys and Hickman's counsel were upheld by the court and barred the confession from the trial.

Hickman is under sentence to be hanged for the Parker murder.

Hunt Clings to Story. Under cross-examination today, Hunt steadfastly clung to his story that he accompanied Hickman in the Toms holdup only under a threat of death if he refused. Gilmer's move to have Hickman's confession in the Parker case introduced after Hunt had testified that it was information given by him to the authorities which led to the murder charges against both Hickman and himself.

Hunt's attorney argued that the Hickman confession would show that Hickman carried an automatic of the caliber used to slay Toms. Both Hickman and Hunt deny firing the fatal shot.

PAPER CORRECTS MISTAKE ABOUT NATHAN JANKO

Through a typographical error, The Constitution Tuesday morning, in giving a number of names in connection with federal court cases, inadvertently referred to Nathan Janko as "colored."

The Constitution is prompt to correct this regrettable error as, of course, all who are acquainted with Mr. Janko know that he is a well-known white resident of Atlanta. Although the mistake was naturally recognized as such by all Mr. Janko's friends, The Constitution nevertheless hereby acknowledges the error and corrects it.

Mrs. W. F. Brooks, 25, left a note saying she was tired of living before inhaling illuminating gas in her apartment. Her husband is employed in Norfolk, police learned.

ASYLUM ALIENISTS CALL REMUS CRAZY

Lima, Ohio, February 28.—(P)—Two assistant physicians at the Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane testified today before the court of appeals that George Remus, Cincinnati wife slayer, is mentally unsound and not fit to be at large.

Opposing Remus' application for release on a writ of habeas corpus county and state attorneys placed Dr. Kenneth L. Weber and Dr. Albert Pfeiffer on the stand to show that Remus is a dangerous character.

Asylum Experts Disagree. These physicians, who are assistants to Dr. W. H. Vorbau, superintendent of the hospital, have been making observations of Remus since the former "bootleg king" was committed to the asylum last December following the murder of his estranged wife, Imogene, in Cincinnati.

Although their views as to Remus' mental condition coincided in general, Dr. Weber and Dr. Pfeiffer disagreed as to criminal tendency which the state claims was displayed by Remus in his early life at Chicago.

Remus previously had testified that about 30 years ago when he was studying to be a pharmacist he advanced his age from 19 to 21 so he could get his Illinois state examination.

Dr. Pfeiffer gave Remus credit for thus pushing himself along in the world. Dr. Weber, however, termed Remus' "convoyed lie" about his age as an indication of criminal tendency.

WIFE AND HUSBAND DIFFER ON KILLING

Griffin, Ga., February 28.—(P)—Howell Middlebrooks, 47, was shot and instantly killed here last night at the home of Charles Smith. The coroner held that the shooting had been done either by Smith or his wife.

Smith told police he went back home last night after going to work at the mill and found Middlebrooks arguing with his wife. Middlebrooks drew a knife on him and he hit him on the head with a stick, Smith said.

Mrs. Smith said she went to the mill for her husband, but finding him already gone, returned home to find her husband arguing with Middlebrooks. She said she got a shotgun and shot Middlebrooks.

BULLOCH OUSTER CASE IS SET FOR THURSDAY

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Court proceedings seeking to oust B. L. Bulloch, short-term fertilizer inspector appointed by Eugene Talmadge, state commissioner of agriculture, in favor of the claimants, the post appointed by former Commissioner J. J. Brown, will come up for decision Thursday in Hart county superior court. It was learned Tuesday at the offices of Commissioner Talmadge.

The plaintiffs, R. L. Russell, of Hart county; A. Seymour, Ellers county; and H. B. Fowler, Madison county, allege that they were named by former Commissioner Brown to inspect fertilizer in the three counties named, as well as in Franklin and Stephens counties, and contend that their terms of office do not expire until next October.

Bulloch, it is alleged, has been named by Mr. Talmadge to cover the same territory. It is charged that the commissioner had no authority to make such appointments in view of the unexpired terms of the three Brown appointees, and for other reasons.

Attorneys for Commissioner Talmadge contend that the commissioner has authority to name as many inspectors as he may deem necessary, so long as he uses at one time no more than the maximum 40 stipulated in law. They further insist that former Commissioner Brown had no right to name, if he did name, inspectors for any restricted locality, and charge that the whole litigation is a "political attempt to embarrass Mr. Talmadge."

Attorneys John I. Keller, Lawrenceville; S. Parker New, Dublin, and Tom Linder, Atlanta, are representing Bulloch. J. T. Sisk, Hartwell, is counsel for the plaintiffs.

Two More Days Remain for Auto Tag Purchases

Two more days remain in which automobile owners may purchase license tags by mail, the necessity of having applications approved by the sheriff. The last two days of grace are today and Thursday, February 29 and March 1.

The offices at the capital were busy Tuesday and a larger crowd is expected Wednesday, but thus far the department has been able to furnish the tags without imposing any unusually long wait on the purchasers.

Extra clerks are on duty at the capital to give as good service as possible and the department will cooperate with the public to the fullest extent, according to an announcement made by Arthur T. Harris, chief clerk in the office of Secretary of State S. G. McDaniel.

Tags can be obtained by mail and a money order receipt is a certificate which permits the automobile owner to use his old license until he receives his new tag by mail. Dr. Royall J. Miller, head of the mail order department, also has a staff of extra clerks to handle the heavy business. J. JUNIOR HIGH BUILDING PLANS UP THURSDAY

A special meeting of members of committees from city council, the bond commission and the school board will be held at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night in the Hurt building in an effort to obtain completion of the junior high school construction program which was held up by the council after its approval by the school board and the bond commission.

The meeting was called by Councilman Howard C. McCutcheon, chairman of the council conference committee, in order to bring about some agreement.

The main objection to the program was based on the fact that it did not include additional junior high schools for the fifth and eleventh wards.

The members of the council committee are Councilmen Jack C. Savage, H. Turner Leach, J. C. Bowden and Alderman J. C. Murphy. The bond commission committee consists of W. L. Hancock, chairman; Mrs. R. K. Rambo, Abe Greenfield, George Campbell and Robert Alston. The members of the school board committee are W. W. Gaines, George Powell, Mrs. Paul West, J. W. Maddox and John T. Hancock.

LOWDEN, HOOVER PUSH CAMPAIGNS

Bismarck, N. D., February 28.—(P) Former Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, announced himself as a candidate for the republican presidential nomination in a personal declaration filed late today with North Dakota's secretary of state.

The declaration is in the form of an affidavit made by Mr. Lowden in Marquette county, Arizona, February 20. Lowden previously had been assured a place on this state's presidential preference ballot in the March 20 primary through the filing of the required number of petitions last Saturday. His own declaration is not required by law.

Robert Byrne, secretary of state, received the declaration from F. L. Conklin, Bismarck insurance man, who said it had been forwarded to him by Harrison Garnett, of St. Thomas, republican national committeeman from this state.

Officials of the secretary of state's office, in accepting the declaration, said it was not required to place his name on the ballot, but that it has been placed on file as an added assurance that Mr. Lowden's name will appear on the ballot.

Time for filing petitions nominating candidates for the presidential primary does not expire until midnight March 1, the secretary of state's office said. No other petitions for the republican ticket have been received and political leaders here say none is expected.

HOOVER FILES CANDIDACY IN MARYLAND

Annapolis, Md., February 28.—(United News.)—Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover filed as a presidential candidate in Maryland today. An application to have his name placed on the Maryland ballots as a republican nominee was filed with Secretary of State David Winebrenner. It was accompanied with a check for $270 to cover the costs of placing his name on the ballot.

Declaring the republican national convention from Maryland an endorsement at a state convention, but are bound by the preference shown at the presidential primary which is to be held on May 7. Under the law, candidates are required to file declarations of candidacy by April 21. Maryland republicans have disagreed over the Hoover candidacy. Recently a Maryland Hoover-for-President movement was started by J. Craig McClanahan. But within the last few days a letter has been sent by Mayor Greening, of Baltimore, an influential republican leader, to all of his city ward leaders disavowing any official knowledge of the movement.

man, democrat, Arkansas, with "denial to be frank" in his reply to Senator Borah's questionnaire on prohibition.

"I think Hoover's reputation for candor and courage has suffered by this answer," Tillman declared. "The thing Senator Borah stressed mainly was whether or not Mr. Hoover favored incorporating in the next republican national platform a plank officially referring to the eighteenth amendment."

LOWDEN FAILS TO FILE IN MICHIGAN

LaSalle, Mich., February 28.—(P) Former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois will not enter the Michigan presidential primary April 2, his lieutenant, State Senator Peter B. Lennon, announced today. Lennon said that although sufficient signatures to qualify Lowden were available, it had been decided not to enter him in the Michigan primary.

Lennon's announcement made it appear that Herbert Hoover and Governor Alfred Smith of New York would be without opposition respectively for the republican and democratic preference of Michigan voters.

STONE MOUNTAIN ROAD WORK TO START SOON

Another step in development of the Stone Mountain Memorial drive, to extend from the heart of the Atlanta business district through East Lake, Decatur and Avondale, to Stone Mountain, was taken Tuesday when Atlanta and DeKalb county officials made a survey preparatory to start of grading the route.

The survey was made at the request of a large delegation of Atlanta, Fulton county, East Lake, Decatur and DeKalb county citizens, headed by A. O. Randall, secretary of the Atlanta Improvement association.

L. T. Y. Nash, DeKalb county commissioner, stated that he will begin the grading just as soon as Chief of Construction William A. Hansell completes the survey. Mr. Hansell stated Tuesday night that he will begin the survey at once.

First steps towards establishment of the boulevard, which will reduce the distance to the historic memorial by about three miles, were taken several months ago when the city and Fulton county cooperated in the widening and repaving of Fair street to Whiteford avenue. It is the unpaved stretch, about three miles long, extending from Candler road to East Lake, which will be graded and it will be paved just as soon as Mr. Nash can get funds to prosecute the work and the grading is completed.

The Atlanta Improvement association was one of the prime movers in the projected improvement and have consistently urged Fulton and DeKalb counties and municipalities through which the thoroughfare will pass to cooperate in making it a reality.

Another advantage which the completed road will offer will be a reduction of about three miles in the distance from East Lake to the center of the city.

FINANCIAL COMPANY MOVES ITS QUARTERS

The Mortgage Guarantee Company of America has moved its quarters from the Candler building to the ground floor, corner of Carnegie way and Ellis street, in the Wynne-Claughton building, it was announced Tuesday by H. C. Williams, president and general manager, who stated that the company had long since overgrown its original quarters and that the larger and more adequate plant now provided had become a necessity.

The Mortgage Guarantee Company of America was organized by Mr. Williams less than four years ago, occupying at that time one room in the Candler building, which had gradually increased to seven. Its new quarters comprise about 5,000 square feet, consisting of first and second floors and basement, the latter to be used for storage and vault space. The first floor is arranged as a banking room and will accommodate both the city and national loan departments and the securities and accounting departments. The second floor will house the closing, insurance, inspecting and bond sales departments and the chief executive offices. Stairs lead from the main floor lobby to the offices above.

"We expect this to be our permanent home," said Mr. Williams; "we have a long lease and options on the present quarters and additional space covering a period of nearly 20 years, so we feel that we are now anchored and in a location which is becoming increasingly desirable."

To the Citizens of Fulton County

James I. Lowry and his deputies have been presented to the citizens of Fulton County with a record of efficient, wise and just administration of office. We seek the vote of the citizens of Fulton County on this record.

We desire to call to the attention of the people that in offices administering the law experience and faithful service go hand in hand. We might cite instances of long and faithful service in various public offices of administration, however, we are concerned, and the people are concerned with the PRESENT race for the office of Sheriff.

NECESSITY and DESIRE comprise all incentives to human endeavor, be it in public life or in private life. The people are the employers in one instance and individuals, or corporations, in the other. A MAN MAY MERIT HONOR AND CONFIDENCE BY THE PEOPLE FOR LONG AND FAITHFUL SERVICE AS HE MAY MERIT HONOR AND CONFIDENCE FROM PRIVATE CORPORATIONS.

We set forth that Mr. Lowry and his staff merit the confidence of the people and we respectfully ask that they be returned to office in the primary of March 7, 1928.

Clear, Warmer Weather Slated For City Today

Blue skies and rising temperatures are forecast for Atlanta and Georgia today by C. F. von Herrmann, United States meteorologist here.

The caprices of February weather are too upsetting for him to suggest how long this balminess may last. Mr. von Herrmann said, but he feels sure that today will be rainless, clear and warmer.

A mercury range from 40 to 60 degrees is forecast, while high and low Tuesday was 57 and 34 degrees. The only rainfall in the entire United States Tuesday was in the southern half of Florida, he said.

CARLINA FARMER NAMES FLOGGERS

Raleigh, N. C., February 28.—(P)—Will Dean, 45, farmer-blacksmith, today told a Harnett county jury in Wake superior court that among the 75 or 100 robed men who took him from his home near here and flogged him were J. R. Hester, physician, and Baird Poole, and A. L. Daniel, farmers of the Knightsdale section, defendants.

One hour and fifteen minutes were consumed this afternoon in selection of the jury from a special venire of 75 men from the neighboring county. Dean related in detail how a mob, all dressed in robes and carrying pistols, flash lights and sticks came to his two-room hut about midnight September 29, 1926, and took him from his wife and five children.

The band, he said, carried him to ride for about 40 minutes to a swamp in the upper section of the county where they flogged him. They accused him of improper conduct toward his 25-year-old daughter, Lillie, he testified.

Dean said the masked crowd threatened to kill him if he didn't admit his misconduct. This he refused, he said, and was freed on a road strange to him which he learned was near Middleburg, later. It was about noon the following day that he reached home, walking, Dean added.

Dean showed the jury a knot on his neck which he said was caused by a blow from one of the men who used a flashlight or a pistol.

OSSIP GABRILOWITSCH, PIANIST, HERE MAR. 10

OSSIP Gabrilowitsch, one of the foremost concert pianists in America, and styled by critics as the "aristocrat of the keyboard," will appear in recital Saturday afternoon, March 10, at the Woman's club auditorium, as the last of the series of three recitals presented on the "matinee series."

In addition to his fame as a pianist, composer and lecturer, Mr. Gabrilowitsch is distinguished as a conductor of the Detroit Symphony orchestra. He was born in Russia, the son of a lawyer, and received his first piano instruction at the age of five from his mother and his two older brothers.

At the age of nine, the great Rubinstein declared that the boy was a natural musician and it was decided then to devote his career to music. He graduated at 16 from the St. Petersburg conservatory with the Rubinstein prize, the highest and most coveted honor at the institution. He then studied composition under Liadov and Glazunov.

He next went to study under Leschetizky, in Vienna, and he remained with that noted teacher two years. In 1900 he came to America, establishing himself so firmly in this country that he made tours every second year until 1914, when he decided to make the United States his home.

In 1909 he married Clara, daughter of Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain) and herself a singer of distinction.

Mr. Gabrilowitsch's first appearance as an orchestral conductor were in 1906 in Paris, Vienna and Manchester, England, where he appeared as guest conductor following the resignation of Richter.

Subsequently he conducted a series of concerts with the Konzertverein-Orchestra in Munich. Coming to America, the Detroit Symphony secured his services as permanent conductor.

There will be no advance sale of tickets as the seats are not reserved, it is announced. The entire first floor and the first three rows of the balcony are priced at $2 and the remainder of the balcony at $1.

JOHNSON AND AIDE
OF HARWELL CLASH

BY HERMAN D. HANCOCK.

Another sharp verbal tilt in the race between Edwin Johnson and Walter Harwell for the position of Fulton county tax receiver featured a series of political rallies Tuesday night as the aspirants for the five contested positions in the county primary of March 7 took the stump.

The clash occurred at a rally at Hapeville, where Mr. Johnson and E. M. McGee, attorney who is supporting Mr. Harwell, were principals.

Mr. Harwell spoke first and then Mr. Johnson. The latter declared that during his address he alluded to Marvin Rorer, the Harwell campaign manager; Tull C. Waters, a member of the Harwell ticket; and Mr. McGee in what the latter declared was a "sarcastic and undignified manner."

Following conclusion of the Johnson speech, Mr. McGee asked the privilege of the floor, and delivered an attack on the candidate, charging the existence of a "ring" among county commissioners who control the policy of the county government, and assailing what he termed "excessive salaries paid to certain county employees."

Johnson Denies "Ring." This caused Mr. Johnson to again take the floor in an emphatic denial of the existence of any ring. Mr. Johnson charged that a "campaign of malicious slander" is being conducted against him and some of his associates and declared the persons responsible for the "unfounded and preposterous charges will be forced to answer for them at the proper time."

Although the center of interest as the race swung into the last week of actual campaigning, that for Fulton county sheriff in which James E. Lower, incumbent, seeks reelection for the fourth consecutive time, and A. M. Corrie is opposing him, forced to the front with the battle for sheriff of the criminal court of Atlanta in which Carlton W. Binn, incumbent, and John S. McClelland are vying for honors.

The record of Mr. Lower and his corps of deputies was reviewed at each of the three rallies Tuesday night. The money ever held at the Tenth street school in the eighth ward in the form of a rally for Mr. McClelland and the third was at the South Side Baptist church.

Swift Tyler, speaking for Sheriff Lower, declared the opposition has made no charges of inefficiency, but on the contrary admits that Mr. Lower is competent and has given good service.

In fact the opposition is predicting its claim to the position on two propositions. They want the job and they want to haul prisoners to and from the jail to the courthouse in a motor bus, a proposal which Mr. Lower already has championed, Mr. Tyler said.

Mr. Corrie took the stump and declared that a recent throat infection prevented him from speaking, but in a speech Mr. Key laid stress on the bus, declaring he was unable to find a record of Mr. Lower asking the commission to provide it.

Solicitors Contest. The large audience at Hapeville also heard A. C. Minniet, reverend of the First Baptist church, representing Mr. Binn, and Ralph McClelland representing his brother, John McClelland. Both were cordially received. Mr. Minniet, reviewing the record of the Binn incumbency, declaring that the present assistants are discharging the duties of the office with efficiency, while Mr. McClelland pleaded for support because "it is the ambition of my brother to serve as your solicitor, and protect the young people of Atlanta and Fulton county."

Ed Luman, Walter B. Stewart, Captain George Hope, Dr. A. H. Cochran and Sam D. Hewlett spoke or were represented. All promised businesslike, economical administration of county funds and an equitable distribution of improvements.

Mrs. Mabel MacNeill Abbott, Mrs. Pauline Donohue Mackintosh and Mrs. J. R. Wakefield, candidates for Fulton county treasurer, also spoke, each reviewing her respective qualifications and asking support.

A feature of the Tenth street meeting was the meeting of Mr. McClelland and Mr. Binn at the rally which was held by friends of McClelland.

Mr. McClelland lost the eighth ward in his race for sheriff four years ago, when he was defeated for the position by James E. Lower, a majority of 100 votes in more than 20,000 votes were cast. Tuesday night he appealed for support because of his record as an officer and his desire to serve the county.

All other candidates appeared or were represented.

Rally Tonight. Another rally tonight will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Smylie school, in the fourth ward. Members of the Georgia Power company women's club, circle No. 5, will sponsor a political rally and fish fry Friday at 1931-2 Whitehall street from 5 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon, according to announcement Tuesday by Mrs. A. J. Gill.

All candidates for political offices are invited to speak, Mrs. Gilbert said.

RADIOING
The Air Waves.

BY WILL SMITH.

Radio Commissioner O. H. Caldwell has presented his side of the difficulties which he says the federal radio commission is laboring under, in a letter to the manager of station WCAP, Asbury Park, N. J.

Mr. Caldwell accentuates several views gathered by the Dial Twister on the ineffectiveness of the radio commission, places the blame for its failure to act upon the congress and in detail tells how the commission's hands are tied.

"After setting up the radio commission in 1927, congress promptly failed to appropriate any funds on which the commission could operate, employ experts or purchase necessary apparatus. To date, three radio commissioners have received no salaries whatever."

And now, after a year of the commission and three months of the present session of congress, the radio commission is still without a quorum confirmed by the senate, and so finds itself hampered on every hand—authority, funds, personnel and equipment—in its efforts to proceed with its carefully considered plans to bring good radio to every home in America.

An hour of Broadway music has just closed as we write this, an hour of selections by Broadway composers chosen from the "Treasure Chest" by the Stromberg-Carlson program director. We got our program from KDKA and "Old Faithful" brought us among other numbers "Such a Little Fellow," an obnoxious "Moonlight Lullaby" by the Stromberg-Carlson quartet of male voices, two of Felix's compositions, "It's Raining" and "Cater Through the Woods," and "Just a Little Bit of Heaven."

Among the composers whose selections were heard were Lahar, Fontaine, Bourdon, Cjani and Diekmann. And not a number from beginning to end, three dance selections which closed the hour but which were enjoyable, well selected and thoroughly appreciated by the Dial Twister. You may always depend on real music, artistically rendered, by the Stromberg-Carlson artists.

Starting at 8 o'clock tonight, the Dial Twister will be in a quandary. That is, he will be if he doesn't know before the power that is and go to see Lon Chaney at the Grand instead of listening over the air waves.

And all because starting at 8 o'clock, and continuing on through until 10 o'clock, the Columbia and the NBC networks will be in close competition for our attention. You see, the Stromberg-Carlson will open over WSB at 8 o'clock. And so will the Kolster hour over KMOX. Now the Troubadours are almost entirely good. And they are the Kolster symphony orchestra and voices.

Then at 8:30 o'clock over WSB starts an hour of the Goodrich Zippers. And the Kolster folks are still on. When the Kolster people sign off at 9 o'clock, the Columbia system will replace them with the Columbia Phonograph hour. That should keep any half-way sane radio listener busy till 10 o'clock. But when the Goodrich Zippers tell Graham McNamee or Philip Carlin "good night" at WCAP, the National Grand opera, "Cavalleria Rusticana" will move into WCAP's studio for a broadcast over WSB. Now, we ask you, how can one Dial Twister get more than half of all the above? Well, we are told sometimes we are hard to please. Maybe so, but we still contend we don't want to miss any of it.

Then, we almost forgot, the New Russian String quartet with Jackson Kinsey, baritone, will come to us from WOC at 7:30 o'clock. And, locally, we will have the regular Wednesday night Sears-Robuck hour at 7 o'clock over WSB.

Great Moments in History will be broadcast by WSAI at 7 o'clock. This hour has created much interest and has fairly lured friends of history to every week. KDKA will send out the Happiness program at 9 o'clock. WSM will have a dinner program at 7 o'clock. WJL will have an organ recital at 9:30. WJL, WJL, WJL, Vagabonds will be on at 10 o'clock.

STRIKE TESTIMONY TO START IN WEEK

Washington, February 28.—(AP)—The taking of testimony in the senate investigation of conditions in the central bituminous fields where union miners have been out of work for nearly a year will be started next week, it was announced today by Senator Watson, republican, Indiana, who heads the committee of inquiry.

The subcommittee of five, of which Senator Gooding, republican, Idaho, is chairman, returned here today after a five day tour of inspection in the Pennsylvania fields and will make its report upon the arrival of one of its members, Senator Wagner, who went direct from Pennsylvania to his home in New York.

Report Contains Findings.
This report will contain the findings of the subcommittee on its inspection in the Pennsylvania district where officials of the United Mine Workers of America and the operators of the large Pennsylvania coal companies were interviewed during the time the subcommittee spent in the field around Pittsburgh.

These officials will be summoned here before the entire committee to present their statements as to the controversy. In addition the committee is expected to summon officers of the Pennsylvania, New York Central and Baltimore and Ohio railroads as a result of charges during the senate debate on the Johnson resolution for the inquiry that these carriers were seeking to destroy the mine workers' union.

COAL OPERATORS ATTACK SENATE PROBERS.
Pittsburgh, February 28.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Coal company, whose mines were visited by the senate mining commerce subcommittee, today published full-page advertisements in local newspapers in which it was declared that "as the actions and pronouncements of the visiting senate committee seem to stamp it as a prejudiced body, we are taking this means of telling the essential facts of the case." The committee, however, neither the committee nor the newspapers seem willing to present both sides of the question.

President Morrow of the company, when asked by the committee, "When we broke the Jacksonville agreement," the advertisement said, "When we answered that we did not break the agreement, the committee said we were lying. When we answered that we had done so, when Mr. Morrow asked them if they had."

Law Aimed at Moonshiners Fails To Hold for Cabaret

New York, February 28.—(United News.)—Prohibition authorities broke down and confessed today that a law created years ago to baffle back-country moonshiners was a miserable failure when used to disrupt a gay night club in the Bronx, N. Y. In consequence, charges against Helen Morgan, one of Flo Ziegfeld's most glorified young women, have been dropped; the furnishings of her once glittering cabaret will be returned to the owners, and six waitresses, who were arrested in the scheme of the law, will be forced to stand trial for possession of a glee club.

It was back in the early morning of December 30, 1927, that federal agents appeared at the recently opened Chez Helen Morgan. Miss Morgan and eight others were arrested and taken to the nearest police station. Everything movable was carried away. Everything immovable was smashed.

Then Dinborn called the police. The detectives came quickly and heard the story. It developed that the money had been placed in an armored car of the United States Trucking corporation, for transportation to the reserve bank.

GREEN ISSUES NEW PLEA FOR STRIKE AID.
Washington, February 29.—(AP)—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor, through President Green, has issued another appeal for aid for idle miners in western Pennsylvania and elsewhere.

Members of the senior class of Boys' High school provided the entertainment at the regular meeting of the Atlanta Rotary club Tuesday in the Capital City club, taking full charge of the meeting in place of the regular officers.

STUDENTS IN CHARGE OF ROTARY MEETING
The student participating were Richard Clark, who acted as chairman; Howard Floyd, Walter Anderson, Walter Paschal, Ben S. Read, Jr., and Henry Kingdon. The program was supplemented by music from the Boys' High orchestra.

GIRL ARRESTED IN PLOT AGAINST GOTHAM OFFICIALS
New York, February 28.—(AP)—Rebecca Rosenberg, 24, an accountant, was held in $5,000 bail today accused of sending threatening letters, some of them containing a poisonous powder, to government officials, army officers and city judges.

Authorities charged her also with suspicion of forgery when her brother-in-law, Warren Edder, whose name was signed to some of the letters, told police he had not written them. Counsel said Miss Rosenberg was a working girl who is also studying biology and chemistry.

VENEZUELA TORN BY STUDENT RIOT

San Juan, Porto Rico, February 28.—(AP)—Tourists aboard the S. S. Meganitic, which arrived here yesterday, reported they were advised at La Guaira, Venezuela, that it was inadvisable to attempt to reach Caracas owing to difficulties between the government and students there.

One passenger said that he had been made an offer at La Guaira to smuggle him into Caracas, just a few miles away, for $100. He said he had been told at La Guaira that no one is being permitted to leave Caracas without government consent, and that several from Caracas had been placed aboard a vessel there, reportedly for deportation.

Last Disturbance in 1908.
Venezuela has been comparatively free from violent political disturbances since 1908, when President Castro left for medical treatment in Europe and General Juan Vicente Gomez, who is now president, took over government and has since continued as chief executive. His policy has been conciliatory in the treatment of foreign corporations and in the handling of the foreign concessionaires which characterized Castro's eight years of rule and threatened to bring about international war.

Venezuela recently came into great prominence because of its oil production, which many experts have predicted eventually will surpass that of Mexico. Maracaibo, the center of the oil industry, is a seaport about 400 miles west of Caracas. Maracaibo is also Venezuela's leading coffee port and handles large quantities of Colombian coffee, which reaches the sea across Venezuelan territory.

N. Y. TUBE STRIKE IS BELIEVED NEAR

New York, February 28.—(AP)—Mayor Walker refused to take no as an answer today in his efforts to avert a strike on the city's principal subway and elevated lines.

Representatives of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees, an A. F. of L. organization, have threatened to call a strike unless the Interborough Rapid Transit company reinstates a score of employees discharged for joining the Amalgamated. Officials of the Interborough's "company union" have threatened a strike if the men are reinstated.

Mayor Walker suggested a conference in his office of representatives of the Amalgamated and the I. R. T. The Amalgamated agreed but Frank Hedley, president of the I. R. T., refused in a letter received by the mayor today.

Declining to accept the refusal as final, the mayor wrote Hedley again late today urging him to mediate. While the labor dispute was in progress the I. R. T. took another step in its fight to raise the fare from five to seven cents. In United States district court it obtained an order directing the city and the transit commission to show cause why they should not be restrained from preventing the increase. The order was made returnable March 8.

Maids Owe Debt to Caesar For Providing Leap Years

Washington, February 28.—(United News.)—Leap-year levity should be promptly put aside for the National Geographic society has been investigating and finds that February 29 is a sad "reminder of man's bungling efforts" through thousands of years to frame an accurate calendar.

The National Geographic traces the blame back to the late Julius Caesar. The Roman conqueror took the old moon almanacs of his day, which were not very much, and with the help of noted astronomers made the most accurate revision of the calendar that had been made up to that time.

But when he got through he found he had six hours unaccounted for each year so he conceived the original idea of lumping them together in an extra day every four years.

Still Caesar had 11 minutes and 14.49 seconds per year left over but he could think of nothing to do about it so that time was just allowed to go to waste. However, by 1582 this time had accumulated into a total of 14 days. The calendar was not keeping up with the real movements of the earth. If allowed to go on indefinitely Christmas would eventually have occurred in midsummer.

So another slight change was made by Pope Gregory, who arranged it so that the calendar would not creep ahead these 11 minutes and 14.49 odd seconds yearly.

The Geographic society says that although Pope Gregory's change made the calendar more correct than Caesar's it still has a discrepancy which will come to light in the year 4844, about 2,917 years hence. The discrepancy, the society said, amounts to "nearly three hours in 400 years, or slightly more than 44 minutes per century."

TEXAS-TO-MEXICO MAIL AND FREIGHT LINE IS ORGANIZED
San Antonio, February 28.—(AP)—Organization of the Texas-Mexico Airways company, to carry mail, passengers or packages, teach flying, market airplanes and eventually to manufacture airplanes, was announced here today by J. N. Kincaid, wealthy oil man, who heads the company.

The company hopes to obtain the contract for airmail service between Laredo and Mexico City and within 90 days expects to establish a regular route between San Antonio and Mexico City. The route would be covered once each way every day in seven or less.

DOROTHY MACKAYE DENIED CLEMENCY

Los Angeles, February 28.—(United News.)—"It doesn't matter much now," Dorothy Mackaye, former stage star, said when she was informed that Governor U. C. Young had denied her plea for executive clemency to save her from serving one to three years in San Quentin penitentiary.

Miss Mackaye will be taken to San Quentin tomorrow to begin the term imposed after she was found guilty of conspiring to conceal the manner of the death of Ray Raymond, her husband. Requests for a reversal of judgment and a new trial were denied by the appellate and the supreme courts.

Paul Kelly, asserted sweetheart of Miss Mackaye, is now serving a one-to-ten-year term in San Quentin in connection with Raymond's death.

WASH YOUR KIDNEYS BY DRINKING WATER
Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forces acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is non-toxic; it cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—(adv.)

Here's what one woman thinks---

Of Atlanta's newest entertainment sensation—"The Jazz Singer"

To All Mothers, Old and Young,
Dear Mothers of Atlanta.

To you who have known the understanding love of sons, who have missed it, to you who are looking forward to it, let me say a word.

Do not fail to see the marvelous portrayal of this mutual affection that is given on the screen at the Metropolitan this week by Al Jolson and Eugenie Besserer.

Do not allow the title, "The Jazz Singer," to prejudice you. After you have seen the picture, after you have thrilled to that incomparable voice in its "Mammy" songs, you will think of this title tenderly as the only name the picture could possibly have.

If you want to live—really live through the tension and suspense of great scenes brought about by our changed conditions, if you want to laugh and sigh and wipe away a tear as LOVE triumphs over these difficulties—the sacred love between an understanding mother and a loyal son, if you want to see a perfect story presented by a cast without a flaw and directed beyond criticism, see "The Jazz Singer" and urge that it be kept over yet another week that you may tell all your friends about it.

Faithfully yours,
"MOTHER ROSE,"
of The Atlanta Journal.

organization for the training of young men in church and welfare work, will be shown at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Baptist Tabernacle.

The Moody institute is known from coast to coast as the "West Point of Christian Service." The unique film, four reels in length, brings to the general public the actual work and efforts of this great training school. Actual everyday programs of work, study and evangelism are shown. Views are given of the students visiting the missions, jails and hospitals of Chicago.

Details of the huge task involved in feeding and caring for 1,000 students also are shown, together with scenes of the 34 separate buildings grouped on the several city blocks which are necessary for the work.

George W. Hayward, field promoter of motion picture activity of the institute, will explain the various details of the film as it is shown, the combination of picture and lecture being said to provide an especially entertaining evening.

Mr. Hayward was induced to bring the reels to Atlanta by Dr. Will H.
Houston, pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle, who, for the past two Sundays, has been filling the pulpit of the Moody church in Chicago.

Capitol.

Neil O'Brien, the famous stage minstrel and king of all burnt-cork comedy, heads the big vaudeville show at the Capitol theater this week, which also includes four other well chosen acts and "Two Girls Wanted," the feature picture starring Janet Gaynor.

O'Brien is proving one of the biggest hits of the season with his droll and entertaining comedy and he is assisted by Lee Layne in presenting the comedy skit "Misery Moon," in which O'Brien plays the part of the very, very black negro, "Misery." He presents some comedy matter that is of the finest brand heard here. Other acts on the bill are Bert Collins revue;
Misses Marcel and LaSource; Russell and Armstrong and Couch and Moore.

Loew's Grand.

There is a wonderful vaudeville bill and a wonderful picture on the program at Loew's Grand theater this week where two great vaudeville acts are featured and where Lon Chaney is appearing as the star in his latest picture, "The Big City." The headline vaudeville attractions are Charles O'Donnell and Ethel Blair in "The Plasterers," a hodge-podge of nonsensical pantomime, and Don Antonio Zelata, famous Italian foreign pianist.
Betty Compson is co-star with Chaney in "The Big City."

Howard.

"Sporting Goods" is the title of Richard Dix's latest Paramount picture now showing at the Howard theater. In the picture Dix gets back into form and delivers one of the funniest comedies seen in the city in quite some time. The public stage show for the week is John Murray Anderson's dance and song revue, "Dance Caprice," the number Ray Teal and the Howard stage orchestra above par and are assisted by many star acts.

Rialto.

Wholeheartedly endorsed as it is by the public, Manager W. T. Murray, of the Rialto, paid Mary Pickford's
"My Best Girl" his highest compliment when he booked it into the Rialto to show all this week. The cast of "My Best Girl" is said to be perfectly balanced, with Charles Rogers as the leading man, and including Carmelita Gragg, Mack Swain, Lucien Littlefield, Sunshine Hart, Hobart Bosworth and Avonnie Taylor, former Folies beauty.

Forsyth.

Thousands of Atlanta people have thrilled this week at the legion presentation of "The Lost Battalion," stirring war drama that is being shown at the Forsyth theater all this week.
The picture keeps one keyed up to the highest pitch all the way through following the hair-raising advance of the "Lost Battalion" against the German line in the Argonne forest. It also has an interesting story that goes through the entire picture.

disobedience and disloyalty to the con-

Our courts are crowded with ro-

CLERGY OPPOSES PLEA OF CHICAGO MAYOR.

Chicago, February 28. (AP)—Secretary Andrew Mellon as chief of the nation's prohibition forces was called upon by the Chicago clergy today with an appeal to ignore Mayor William Hale Thompson's plea to restrain the closing of Chicago saloons.

The clergy's appeal was contained in a letter sent by the Chicago Church federation, calling Mr. Mellon's attention to the resolution adopted by the federation yesterday, in which "demoralizing conditions in Chicago" were assailed.

In the letter, the clergy said they had read news reports about the mayor's conference with Mellon regarding the pending packing proceedings against Chicago saloons.
"We wish to call your attention to the attitude of the pastors and their action regarding the city of Chicago and hope that Mayor Thompson's plea for you to restrain the prohibition enforcement director will not be successful."

THE PROBLEM

The sums total of the figures on each of the three elephants pictured herewith are to be given as a solution. You can find the sum total of each elephant by adding up the figures of each. The figures 1, 2, and 3 in the circles in the upper left hand corners of the elephants are simply to identify them. These figures have nothing to do with the elephants' weights.

In submitting your solution you must identify the three elephants by their numbers and give the weights of each. A complete solution means that you are to find the sum total of each elephant. It takes the sum total of each to make one solution. This is a game of skill and not a guessing contest.

There are no "1's" or "0's" in the elephants. There are no groups of figures, that is, the figure "9" is the highest figure shown. There are no "2's," "5's" or "9's," or like groups. If you find a "2" and a "3" are written so closely together that it looks like "23," it means that "2" and "3" are to be added—just as you would if they were an inch apart.

There are no figures in the picture except in the bodies of the elephants. The tops of the "6's" are straight or nearly so. There is no trick or illusion in the charts.

GENERAL RULES OF THE CONTEST

1. This contest is open only to residents of Georgia and adjoining states. Both old and new subscribers may enter. No employee or member of an employee's family of The Atlanta Constitution will be allowed to participate in the contest, nor any of the prize winners that have won prizes in excess of $100.00 in any of the elephant contests heretofore conducted by The Atlanta Constitution.

2. Contestants may submit as many different solutions as they may desire, provided a name of one of the amounts designated in the prize list shall accompany each solution, but no contestant will be permitted to win more than one prize. Once registered a solution cannot be changed. NO SOLUTION UNACCOMPANIED BY A SUBSCRIPTION PAYMENT WILL BE REGISTERED.

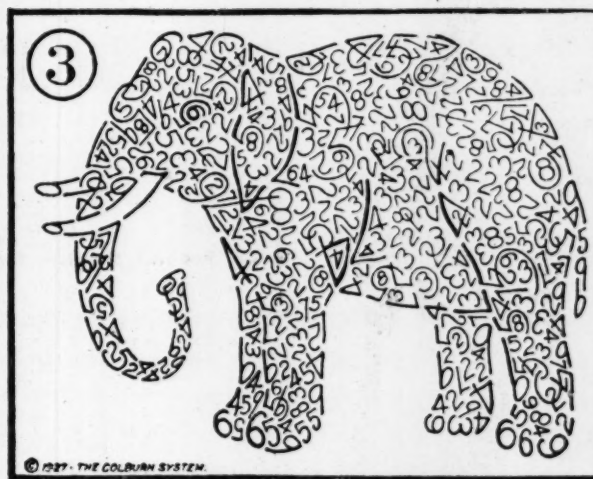

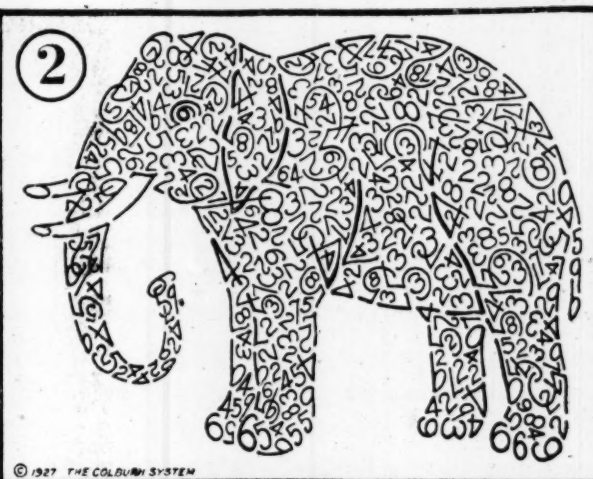

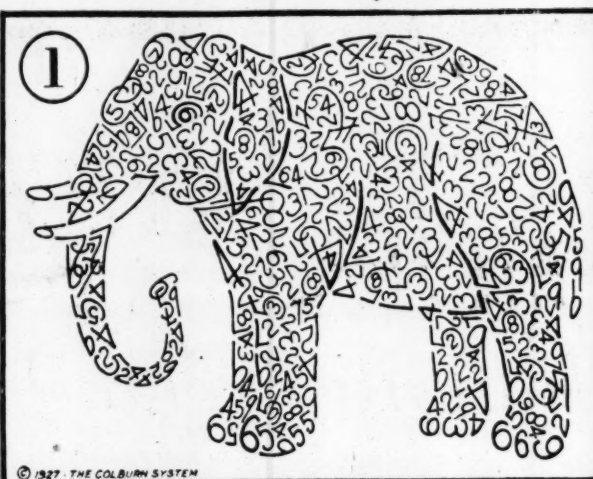

3. The Atlanta Constitution offers these prizes for individual effort. While it is proper for members of one household or several friends to work together, it is not permissible for more than one of those working in unison to send a solution of the puzzle. When, in the judgment of the contest manager or The Atlanta Constitution, more than one member of the same family or more than one of any number of persons he believes have worked together, send in a solution of the puzzle, the right is reserved to refund the amount of money paid for subscription and return the solution if it is believed has been submitted contrary to the rules.

4. The Atlanta Constitution reserves the right at any time to reject any solution which it believes has not been submitted under the proper conditions. In other words, any group of persons working together and submitting more than one solution, all submitted by the group will be barred. The Atlanta Constitution also reserves the right to finally decide any other questions or points which may arise in this contest, and participants by sending in their answers agree to accept the decisions of the contest manager of The Atlanta Constitution as conclusive and final.

5. In case of ties, as many prizes will be reserved as there are people tied before any prizes are awarded for a less correct solution; that is, if two or more people should tie in the best solution, the first two or more prizes will be reserved for them, and they will be awarded in order of the standing of their solutions of the second puzzle. That is, the best solution will be awarded the first prize, the next best second, and the third best third prize, etc.

6. All solutions with remittances must be delivered to the office of The Atlanta Constitution by 6:00 p. m., Thursday, March 29, 1928, or mailed at any post office in Georgia or adjoining states, bearing postmark of no later date than March 29.

7. The subscription rate of the daily and Sunday Constitution is $5.00 for six months, $9.50 for twelve months. All subscriptions in this contest must be paid in advance. Nothing less than six months' subscription will be accepted, and not more than twelve months' subscription is required. A subscription can be sent to one person and the solution credited to another, but the complete address of both must be given in each instance. This contest begins Thursday, February 9, and ends Thursday, March 29, 1928.

Patience and Persistence are the only requisites in winning one of the 30 big awards.

How to Win $1,500.00

To enter this contest it is necessary to send but one paid-in-advance subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution for six months with $5.00, but you can increase the amount of the prize money that you will receive if you are a winner. For instance, with a $5.00 remittance and six months' subscription, should you win first prize the amount paid would be $500.00, but if the winner of first prize has qualified with a remittance of $9.50 for twelve months' subscription, the prize will be $1,500.00 instead of $500.00.

$500.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize provided one six months' subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution with $5.00 remittance is sent, new or renewal, $250.00 for second prize, $125.00 for third prize, etc.

$1,500.00 instead of $500.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize provided one yearly subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution is sent with $9.50, either new or renewal; second prize, $1,000.00; third prize, $500.00, etc. See last column in prize list. All subscriptions in this contest must be paid in advance.

In case of ties, a second puzzle, like the accompanying chart, except larger, will be presented for those tied to solve. The problem will consist of drawing a continuous chain across the chart encircling the figures in the circles. If necessary to eliminate further ties, the puzzle, with combinations changed, will be presented for as many as five more times, after which, should any ties exist, each tying contestant will receive the full amount of any prizes tied for.

In case there are no ties on counting elephants no other puzzle, of course, will be presented.

issued to annual subscribers and immediate members of a subscriber's family of ages from 15 to 70 at $1.25 per policy each per year. This fee is in addition to the subscription price. Applicants should give name in full, state age and occupation, and when a beneficiary is given be sure to state full Christian name and relationship to the insured.

Here Is The Great Prize List

Note: The value of the prize depends on how much you pay on your subscription with your solution in the triplet elephant game. The amount paid will be applied to the daily and Sunday Constitution: Daily only or tri-weekly subscriptions not accepted in this contest, and no solution will be registered unless accompanied by at least $5.00 for six months' subscription. The least amount is $5.00 for six months' subscription, or the largest amount required is $9.50 for twelve months' subscription.

Both the solution and subscription must be sent in at the same time in same envelope.

	Prize if 6 mos. sub. new or renewal with $5.00 is sent.	Prize if 12 mos. sub. new or renewal with $9.50 is sent.
First Prize	$500.00	$1,500.00
Second Prize	250.00	1,000.00
Third Prize	125.00	500.00
Fourth Prize	75.00	250.00
Fifth Prize	40.00	100.00
Sixth Prize	20.00	50.00
Seventh to Thirtieth Prizes	5.00	25.00
Total	$1,130.00	$4,000.00

Important Facts To Remember

While the amount you pay with a solution of the puzzle does not have any effect on your winning an award, it does affect the amount you will receive should you win, as the value of these awards is determined by what the winners submit in subscription money. This is explained in the awards list, which you should study carefully before sending in your solution. The time a solution is received has no bearing upon its winning an award. Accuracy is what counts. Not more than one award will be awarded to any one person.

Keeps Your Skin Naturally Youthful

To make your skin lovely and to preserve the beauty of girlhood, use regularly a little pure mercurized wax. Get an ounce at any drug store and use as directed. The wax peels off the outer layer of dead, wrinkled or blemished skin gently and safely, removing all such imperfections as pimples, freckles, and dry coarse skin. With the removal of the outer scale, the new skin is revealed, clear, fresh, and gleaming with that lasting lovely appearance of youth. Mercurized wax brings out the hidden beauty. To quickly remove wrinkles and other face signs, use as face lotion 1 ounce of powdered azolette and 1 half pint witch hazel. (adv.)

Mrs. Hodgson Gives Interview On Camp Fire Girls

Mrs. Frederick G. Hodgson, on board the board of directors for Atlanta Camp Fire Girls for the past five years. She is a most ardent supporter of this organization, being thoroughly conversant with its purposes, ideals and activities. Her charming daughters, Misses Martha and Jennie Hodgson, attended Camp Wabalo, on Lake Sebago, in Maine, operated by Mrs. Luther Gulich, originator of Camp Fire Girls.

"No program for our youth is complete without the campfire," says Mrs. Hodgson. The very name Camp Fire brings up immediately the picture of the starlight nights, a camp fire, young faces and young voices. But Camp Fire means more than that. It means a well-developed program for every day at camp. It means that little girls learn to do things together, that they are taught teamwork, something boys have been learning for many centuries, but which girls have missed.

"The Camp Fire directors have been looking for four years for a suitable site for a camp for our girls, and the need for a camp for our girls is urged. They have at last found a place where the water is free from contamination and not too far for the city girls to enjoy the mountains. It does not take much vision to look ahead a few years and see a model camp for girls, where those of moderate circumstances can enjoy the same privileges and get the same excellent instruction as those wealthier girls who can go north to expensive camps."

"It seems to me," she concluded, "that this should appeal to every citizen who has Atlanta's interest at heart and who thinks at all of the future of our girls. Once equipped the camp will take care of itself. And for $7 a week girls, hundreds of Atlanta girls each year, can have the wonderful opportunities offered. Atlanta is now a big city and it must face a big city's problems. It must build for the future. I cannot urge too strongly the necessity of paying more attention to our girls and for providing bigger and better opportunities for wholesome recreation."

JUGGERNAUT

SYNOPSIS.
Esther Rowe, a young nurse, having accompanied an invalid from the United States to Cannes on the Riviera is about to return to New York when she sees an advertisement in the paper for a nurse and doctor's assistant and she decides to apply for the job in order to spend a little time in Cannes.

While waiting for an answer to her application to Dr. Sartorius Esther treats herself to tea at the fashionable Restaurant des Ambassadeurs. She becomes interested in the conversation of a beautiful French woman and her escort, an Englishman, who sit at the next table. On returning to her hotel Esther finds a note from the doctor asking her to report in the morning.

The beautiful French woman of the restaurant comes to see Dr. Sartorius and Esther learns that she is Lady Clifford. A few days later her husband, Sir Charles Clifford, is stricken with typhoid fever and Dr. Sartorius gives up his practice and laboratory work to devote himself exclusively to Sir Charles. Esther is taken on the case-as day nurse.

Roger Clifford, Sir Charles' only son by a previous marriage, arrives in Cannes. He is attracted to Esther and takes her for a ride about the town during her afternoon rest period. Esther suggests that they drive to the doctor's house to get a French grammar which she left there.

INSTALLMENT XXVII.
A SECRET SHARED.

Thoroughly disconcerted, Roger rose and walked to the window, where he stood for several seconds staring out, unable to bring himself to make a suitable comment. There was but one thing he felt inclined to say, which was, "O, give her the usual amount for a widow, and let her go to hell!" which of course wouldn't at all do. Why had his father forced this irksome duty upon him?

"Surely," he said at last, with great restraint, "such a trustful relationship is necessary. There is not a child, as a matter of fact, she's older than I am. She ought to be capable of managing her own affairs."

Sir Charles' face assumed an expression of obstinacy that he knew well. "Where money is concerned, There is a fool. She has no judgment whatever, I have reason to know it. Money drips through her fingers. I've no intention of allowing her to fritter away the property it has taken me a lifetime to get together, which is what would happen if she were left to herself. You will find I have taken every precaution, have tied it up, her part of it, that is, pretty securely. She won't be able to throw it away, she won't be at liberty to do anything—I repeat, anything—without your full knowledge and consent."

He had spoken with such emphasis that he closed his eyes with an expression of great lassitude. "I don't like it," protested Roger, helpless in the face of his father's iron determination. "It's far too great a responsibility. 'Not too much,'" retorted his father calmly.

"And besides, father, you know yourself that There isn't like it either. She—she may resent it very deeply." "Don't trouble your head about There, leave her to me."

Plainly there was nothing to be done, any further objection might cause serious annoyance to the old man. Roger dared not risk it. "O, very well, there's no more to be said about it. By the way, though—have you told There?"

"Not yet. I wanted to speak to you first. But I shall broach the subject to her one of these days . . . when I feel equal to it."

The dry humor contained in this last phrase caused Roger to wonder if after all his father was quite as blind as he thought. He did he suspect the becaust story? Was this a diabolical plan for getting even with his temperamental wife? There was no way of knowing. The old chap would keep his counsel till the last gasp, of that Roger had no doubt, but as he gazed on the masklike face with its closed, sunken eyelids, he thought that if this decision of his father's had been reached with malice aforethought, it constituted a delicate and appropriate revenge for many a secret indignity.

He was silent and thoughtful when a few minutes later he joined his aunt and Esther Rowe in the adjoining room. He had overcome his first avoidance of the boudoir since he had found it was no longer considered the exclusive property of his stepmother. Still he did not like the idea of an increase that always clung to its atmosphere. He drew a deep breath of slight distaste as he sank down on the pale blue chaise-longue and mechanically drew out his cigarette case, only to find it empty.

"There are cigarettes on the table in that box, dear, if you want to smoke," suggested his aunt. He picked up the box, made of turquoise blue shagreen, and opened it. There were three compartments within, holding three kinds of cigarettes. In the middle one was a single cigarette with a scarlet tip and a scarlet monogram—T. C. He lifted it between his thumb and finger and examined it with a slight frown.

"That's one of There's own special kind," observed his aunt placidly. "she has them made for her. They're scented with amber."

He let the little object fall and selected a plain cigarette. Then as he lit it, his eyes encountered for a fleeting instant the clear gaze of the nurse. Immediately she looked away, and rising, perhaps too hurriedly, left the room. However, that single glance had been sufficient to tell Roger what was in her thoughts. He was convinced that she knew as well as he did who had been at the doctor's villa with Arthur Holliday the night before.

His first impulse was one of regret. He felt a poignant humiliation to think that this young girl, a stranger in the house, should be aware of a thing of that kind concerning his father's wife. Yet oddly enough, a second later, he realized that he no longer regarded Esther as a stranger. He felt as though he had known her for years and years, she had mysteriously become something quite personal. Strange how the sharing of a secret knowledge can change the tenor of a relationship!

When Esther opened the door into the bedroom, she was just in time to see Lady Clifford bending over the ill man, with one hand lifting up his head, while with the other she turned over the pillow beneath it. Esther stood quite still for a second and looked at her.

"Did you want anything, Sir Charles?" she inquired a little pointedly, coming forward and gently taking the pillow out of Lady Clifford's hand.

"No, nothing at all. I'm all right as I am," the patient replied somewhat fretfully. "I thought he seemed so terribly hot," explained the Frenchwoman with a note of apology. "I always think when one is ill—"

She left her sentence unfinished while her eyes took a quick and comprehensive survey of the smooth sheet, as if, thought Esther, she were searching for something. Words Sir Charles had spoken a little while ago in regard to his wife's "fidgeting about the pillows" recurred to Esther. She had attached no importance to them at the time, but now they had a possible significance.

"Were you looking for something, Lady Clifford?" she asked, cheerfully bland.

The Frenchwoman shot her a glance, her beautiful eyes wide with surprised negation. "Mais non," she replied, with a graceful shrug. "I think, perhaps, it would be as well if you said good night to him now, Lady Clifford," hinted Esther tactfully. "In a very short time I am going to begin getting him ready for the night, and I like to have him absolutely quiet beforehand. It's so much better for him."

Hoping her suggestion would prove sufficient, she started removing the flowers from the room. When she returned from the first trip she saw Lady Clifford lean over, kiss the patient's bony cheek, then straighten up, wrap her fur-boa and negligee closer about her slender body, and move towards the door.

"Bon soir, mon cher," she called softly, kissing her finger tips to him. "Dors bien!"

So charming, so transparently appealing . . . yet she had been looking for something under that pillow, Esther was convinced of it. Why didn't she say what it was? Sir Charles, perhaps, realized it, too. That would account for his dry smile. But what was it she had been trying to discover? Whatever it was, its nature it had been removed, there was nothing there. Suddenly she recalled the fact that Roger had taken something out of the safe that morning and given it to his father. A "what was it?" Ah, now she knew. Lady Clifford wanted to have a peep at her husband's will, she was nervous about the amount of money he had bequeathed her. This explanation accounted, so Esther thought, for a great deal that had hitherto been puzzling her. It was like old Sir Charles to keep his intentions closely guarded, to delight, even in the ignorance of those about him. So that was why he smiled!

SUMTER OFFICIAL DIES AT AMERICUS

Americus, February 28.—(Special.) Jack R. Britton, tax receiver of Sumter county, and one of Americus' best known citizens, died early today at his residence here, death terminating a lengthy illness. He was about 50 years of age and had resided here during 30 years.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Nan Britton, of Americus; three daughters, Mrs. W. H. Moon, of Dawson, Ga.; Mrs. A. S. Jennings, of Cleveland, Ohio; and Miss Nannie Britton, of Americus; three sisters, Mrs. Jennie B. Gammage, of Atlanta; Mrs. J. G. Davis, of Fort Davis, Ala.; and Miss Annie Britton, of Americus; and a number of grandchildren and other relatives.

Funeral services will be held from the Britton residence here at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, conducted by the Rev. H. S. Shirley, pastor of Central Baptist church, of which deceased was a member, with interment in Oak Grove cemetery. Sumter county courthouse officers will act as honorary pallbearers.

SPARTA MAN DIES OF HEART ATTACK ON CITY STREET

Sparta, Ga., February 28.—(Special.)—Edward Bass, 48, painter, of this city, dropped dead on Broad street this afternoon about 5 o'clock. He was walking in front of the Drummer's Home hotel and was seen by persons nearby to fall heavily to the pavement, and when they reached him he was dead. Physicians who examined him gave heart failure as the cause of death.

He is survived by his widow; two daughters, Miss Mildred Bass, of Sparta, and Mrs. O. C. Bould, of Sparta; his mother, Mrs. Simon Bass, of Sparta; and two sisters, Mrs. G. L. Morris, of Sparta, and Mrs. Fulchum, of Warren county. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

LAST RITES HELD FOR MRS. F. P. NEWTON

Thomassville, Ga., February 28.—(Special.)—Funeral services for Mrs. F. P. Newton, for 14 years a resident of Thomassville, were held Sunday afternoon at Greenville, S. C. according to advices received here. Mrs. Newton, who was 75 years of age, died February 23. She is survived by a brother in Thomassville, Frank Carter, of Merrillville, and a stepson, G. C. Newton, of Thomassville.

MRS. MATTIE JOHNSON, 80, DIES AT GREENVILLE

Griffin, Ga., February 28.—(Special.)—Mrs. Mattie Johnson, one of the best-known women in Griffin, and representative of a prominent Georgia family, died at the Griffin hospital this afternoon at 4 o'clock after an illness of several weeks. She was over 80 years of age and had lived here all of her life. She was a woman beloved by all who knew her.

She had been improving until two weeks ago, when her nephew, Frank Ingram, one of the country's leading textile men, was killed in an automobile accident here. From then on she grew steadily weaker.

Mrs. Johnson is survived by one brother, J. M. Branner; three nieces, Mrs. Frank Ingram, Mrs. Charles Murray and Miss Annie Moore; and one nephew, George Moore, all of Griffin.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Mr. Branner's home, and interment will be in Oakhill cemetery.

According to Durdin's story as related to Fulton county police, he was working a few hundred yards from the home when he heard screams. Arming himself with a shotgun he ran to the house. Arriving there he was confronted by the other negro, who was on the front porch brandishing a shotgun he had wrested from the white woman.

Durdin fired the first shot while bringing the gun to his shoulder, and the second at close range, the intruder falling on the porch, wounded in the abdomen. He was found there by county policemen who sent him to Grady hospital.

The white woman, wife of a teacher, was alone in the house with her two young daughters at the time of the shooting, it is said.

Durdin, who lives at Stone Mountain, is temporarily employed on a McDonough road farm.

A generous amount already has been raised for the negro and additional sums have been promised.
